SPEAKS IS NOW IN COUNTY JAIL

Brought Here From Yadkin Last Night.

Captured Monday Night At Ten O'clock by Two Boys In Yadkin County—Seriously Cut Capturers Before They Downed Him With Wagon Standard—Admitted His Crime and Said He Had No Regrets—Brought Here by Mayor Tate and Chief Ridge.

Moses Speaks, the High Point murderer, was safely lodged in Guilford jail last night at 9:30 o'clock by Mayor F. N. Tate and Chief of Police Ben Ridge, of High Point, being assisted by Deputy George Crutchfield. He was hurriedly taken to the jail in a carriage, although there was no fear of violence on the part of the large crowd that gathered to get a glimpse of the murderer.

Speaks was captured Monday night about 10 o'clock at the home of his brother in Yadkin count, 6 miles from Yadkinville and near the Wilkes county line. The capture was by E. A. and J. W. Gregory, two boys eighteen and twenty years of age. Both were seriously cut before they downed the murderer with a hickory wagon standard, their only weapon. One of the boys is in a critical condition and another life may be laid at Speaks' door. He used the same butcher knife with which his horrible work was done in High Point Saturday morning.

It was learned in High Point late Monday afternoon that Speaks had sworn vengeance on a man by the name of Martin Meyers, who lives in Yadkin county and this information was telephoned the sheriff of Iredell, who in turn phoned the Yadkin sheriff, Mr. Fletcher. Sheriff Fletcher at once made for Meyers' home and Meyers left just a few moments before Speaks arrived. Not fiinding his man Speaks went directly to the home of his brother, Archie Speaks, a few miles away. The news that the murderer was in that section spread like wildfire and the Gregory boys were the first to reach the scene. As soon as Speaks heard them step upon the porch he dashed out with drawn knife and stabbed one of the boys in the stomach, inflicting a horrible wound. He at once turned on the other boy and drove his murderous knife in his back, piercing the kidneys. Meantime the other boy, despite his wounded condition, picked up a hickory wagon standard and dealt Speaks a fearful blow across the head, rendering his unconscious. The boys soon trussed him so he could not move hand or foot. The job completed, the lad who was cut in the back swooned from exhaustion.

Sheriff Fletcher, who was close on the track of Speaks, arrived in less than half an hour and placed Speaks in chains. A physician was summoned by one of the men who accompanied the sheriff, in order to relieve the suffering of the heroic capturers of Speaks. The sheriff, accompanied by several deputies, placed Speaks in a conveyance and started to Yadkinville, some 6 miles distant, arriving there yesterday morning.

Chief of Police Ridge, who was in that neighborhood, was notified by phone of his capture and met Sheriff Fletcher at Yadkinville. They then carried him to Rockford, a distance of 20 miles, where they were met by Mayor Tate, who had gone to assist in bringing Speaks back to Guilford. Here they boarded the Wilkesboro-Greensboro train, arriving here at 9:25 p. m. Deputy Crutchfield boarded the train at Pomona, having previously arranged to have a carriage wait at the Ashe street crossing.

When the train rolled in there were more than a hundred people at the station, all anxious to get a glimpse of the murderer, but the man was in the carriage almost before he was seen and only a few o fthe fastest sprinters got a glimpse of Speaks. Several were at the jail, but none were permitted to even get a glimpse of the prisoner. It was at first expected that he would be brought in on the train reaching here at 6 o'clock and fully two hundred were on hand. They looked and waited, but only met with disappointment.

Speaks wore the same outfit as when he left High Point. In fact, it is to be doubted if he had even pulled his clothes off. He wore tan shoes, tan overalls, [illegible]ed sweater and an overall jacket of tan color. He has a heavy moustache, but otherwise is clean shaven. He has a mean look on his face, and all in all is a desperate looking specimen of humanity.

Mayor Tate and Chief Ridge were seen last night and they stated that Speaks appears to be perfectly rational; that he admitted that he killed his wife and son-in-law, William Miller, but declared that they were to blame, that they brought it on themselves. He had no regrets, he said. He stated that he walked the entire distance from High Point to his brother's home in Yadkin, a distance of 80 miles. He went by Teaguetown and had dinner there, as was stated yesterday morning. He spent the night at Lewisville and walked to Yadkinville Sunday. Leaving there Monday morning he reached his brother's home shortly before 10 o'clock that night, having gone by the home of Meyer's before reaching his brothers. He said his brother was asleep while he and his capturers were struggling in the yard.

Speaks' capture is due to the efforts of the High Point and county officials, the latter getting the first trace of his whereabouts and the former by using the phone with utmost freedom succeeded in heading him off, as it were. Chief of Police Ridge stated last night that he had slept but five hours since Friday night, consequently he was nearly worn out. Mayor Tate stated that he had lost a good deal of sleep in his efforts to catch the murderer and felt much relieved at the thought that the hunt was over. As for Speaks, he, too, was pretty well worn out, having no sleep since Sunday night until he was placed in jail.

There will be no preliminary hearing, the verdict of the coroner's jury being sufficient to hold him for the grand jury. Criminal court convenes here Monday and if possible Speaks will be tried during the term.

REVENUE BILL IS CONSIDERED

Passed Second Reading Yesterday.

Discussed by House As Committee of the Whole—Optometrists and Veterinary Surgeons Subject to $5 Tax Also—Number of Bills Reported Favorably In Lower Branch of Legislature.

Raleigh, February 21.—At twelve fifteen o'clock the House went into committee of the whole to consider the revenue bill The first twenty-two sections were adopted without discussion or change. All are reenactments of the present law.

Section 23 relating to secrecy of lists of income tax stirred discussion, an amendment finally prevailing striking out the section of the provision "and should the listtaker divulge the amount so listed other than to the proper officials he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor." Mr. Privott offered an amendment to prohibit newspapers from publishing the lists. This was opposed by Speaker Dowd and others and was voted down. An amendment by Mr. Ewart that the county commissioners be required to publish the list was lost by a large majority. Also his amendment to insert "net" instead of "gross income."

Ross, of Harnett, offered an amendment for graduated tax so that incomes in excess of $6,000 pay 1 1-2 per cent instead of 1 per cent. This was withdrawn and the section was adopted as amended.

Sections 24 and 25 were adopted without closing schedule A and relating to the inheritance and the income taxes.

Section 26 defining schedule B taxes was adopted without change.

Section 27, relating to taxes on theatres was amended on motion of Mr. Kellum by providing that there be no other county tax and that the tax imposed shall be divided between the city and the county.

Section 28 as to traveling theatrical companies was adopted with a slight amendment offered by Chairman Doughton. Sections 29 and 30 as to circuses and exempting certain entertainments were adopted.

Section 31 taxing physicians, lawyers and other professional men $5 each was proposed to be amended by Dr. McPhaul so as to make thix tax $10. This was finally voted down and an amendment by Carr of Durham adopted adding optometerists and veterinary surgeons to the operation of the section. That the lawyers are already taxed to their full share on privilege, property and income was the insistance of such representatives as Williams of Buncombe, Doughton, Mr. Dowd and Mr. Stroupe. The increased tax, it was asserted, would work an especial hardship on the young lawyers just starting out in the practice of their profession.

Following the adoption of section 31 the committee arose and reported progress to the House. On motion of Mr. Doughton, the House then passed the entire bill on second reading with the understanding that there will be further opportunity for amending the bill on the final reading.

Speaker Dowd convened the House at 10 o'clock, prayer by Rev. Livingston Johnson, of the Baptist church.

Great numbers of favorable reports came from committees on bills heretofore introduced. The included: Authorize certain action by the governor in settling the dispute over the boundary of North Carolina and Tennessee; increase salary of the Supreme court justices (substitue).

There were unfavorable reports on a number of bills including: Improve administration of justice in criminal cases; provide for traveling libraries; increase salary of the Supreme court reporter and give him additional clerical assistance. Regulate rates for tickets on railroads.

New Bills.

Ross: Issue $500,000 bonds for permanent improvements at State University, $190,000 State Normal Collefe, $155,000, and A. & M. College, $155,000.

A Cottage Prayer Meeting.

There will be a cottage prayer meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. L. Wagoner, 347 West Lee street. The subject for discussion will be "Faith."

WALL STREET; NOT FARMERS

Who Are Opposing Reciprocity Bill.

So Declared Representative Hill, of Connecticut, Before Cleveland Chamber of Commerce—Shows That Many Benefits Would Accrue—Montana Senator Says the Senate Will Pass the Reciprocity Bill.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 21.—"Not from the farmers' firesides, but from Wall street, has come the inspiration for the circulars in opposition to the proposed Canadian reciprocity agreement."

So declared Representative E. J. Hill, of Connecticut, in a speech before the Cleveland chamber of commerce today.

"Reciprocity with Canada," was Mr. Hill's subject, and he discussed it not as a party or political measure, but as a business matter, "divorced from party politics."

The trade benefits that have redounded to the United States and the countries with which reciprocal trade relationship has been established were instanced by the speaker as proof of similar advantages that would follow reciprocity with Canada.

"Under reciprocal trade arrangements with the Philippines, having a population greater than the Dominion of Canada, the mutual trade has increased in a single year by 70 per cent."

To the ratification of the agreement with the islands named, Mr. Hill reminded his hearers, there had been shown the most determined opposition and direful predictions were made of the results that swiftly would follow. So, in the case of Canada the speaker thought the prophesies of woe that have been heard from those who oppose reciprocity would be proven to have been ill-advised.

An analysis of the effect of the agreement when in operation, upon corn, wheat, fish, lumber, butter and eggs was given by the speaker who emphasized a statement that it would be only the surplus production of each country that go to the other. Of fisheries, from which interest a great deal has been heard in opposition, Mr. Hill said:

"The entire product of Canadian fisheries in 1908 was only $25,451,094. We raised oysters, clams, crabs and lobsters in this country to almost equal in value the entire product of all the fisheries of Canada.

"Our total product is about $54,000,000. Canada exported $22,444,767 worth, sending to the United States $8,162,728 worth. We sent to her during the same year $3,342,870 worth from our fisheries."

Lumber, said Mr. Hill, has steadily increased in cost and price until the problem now is to know what substitutes can be employed for it.

Figures compiled by the governments of the United States and Canada showing the increasing value of farm lands in the two countries are given by the speaker, who said:

"I commend these official statements of the two governments to the authors of the circulars with which this country is now being flooded in opposition to the treay and which there are abundant reasons for believing, have their inspiration in the vicinity of Wall street, New York, instead of at the farmers' firesides and are financed by great monopolies, which the farmers themselves have bitterly denounced for years."

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—The reciprocity agreement with Canada will pass the Senate.

This was a declaration made today by Senator Carter, of Montana, as he was leaving the white house after a conference with President Taft. Personally Senator Carter is opposed to the measure.

Representative McCall, who introduced the bill in the House also conferred with the President and is hopeful of the measure's success.

President Taft has been informed by the secretary of the American Manufacturers' Export Association that about 82 per cent of the members of the organization in a letter ballot have voted in favor of Canadian reciprocity, while a number of others were partly favorable to it.

WEDDING GUESTS GET A SURPRISE

Gather to Witness Marriage of Mr. Kirkman and Miss Florence Armfield—Instead They Get An Introduction To Mr. and Mrs. Kirkman.

Yesterday at high noon a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Armfield, 635 Walker avenue, to witness the marriage of Mr. Lacy Kirkman and Miss Florence Armfield. No one was prepared for the romantic ending that followed.

At the appointed hour the officiating clergyman, Rev. O. J. Denny, advanced into the room followed closely by the supposed contracting parties, but instead of hearing a wedding ceremony as they expected, the gathered company was treated to a simple introduction to Mr. and Mrs. Kirkman.

The marriage had taken place on Sunday afternoon. The only reason for the change in plans was that they might surprise their friends. In this they succeeded but all speedily recovered and the happy couple was showered with congratulations and best wishes for continued happiness.

After the announcement the guests partook of a veritable feast which had been provided by Mr. and Mrs. Armfield. A reception was given last night at the home of the groom at Vandalia.

As stated Miss Armfield is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Armfield. Mr. Kirkman is a popular and successful farmer from the Vandalia neighborhood.

The good wishes of a host of friends go with this popular couple as they embark on the matrimonial sea.

A WELCOME VISITOR.

Maud Powell, Violinist, Has Delighted Audiences In Nearly Every County.

Maud Powell, who is acknowledged to be the greatest of women violinists and the peer of all her brother virtuosos has probably traveled more than any artist before the public today. There is hardly a country in the world in which she has not been heard. All of Europe, including Russia and Finland, has paid tribute to her art and she has been a welcome visitor in South Africa and the Antipodes. On the American continent, her playing has delighted audiences from the Rio Grande to far off Nova Scotia. The South American capitals are the only places where Miss Powell has never been heard and she has received many offers to tour on the other side of the Equator, which she has had to decline on account of her many engagements in this country!

Speaking of her South African trip, Miss Powell said recently that the land of the Boers is very much like our western country, the South African veldt being synonymous with our American pararie. As a musical critic, the Boer is as enthusiastic and demonstrative as a typical westerner. She found them very fond of music and great throngs attended every appearance of her concert company. The native kaffirs, she found as musical as our own negroes. In many of their tunes, of which she made a careful study, she was able to detect a close resemblance in rhythm and melodic outline to the typical music of the Southern "darky."

Madame Powell will appear at the West Market Street annex on Tuesday evening February 28, under the auspices of Mrs. S. L. Alderman's Philathea class. Tickets are $1, 75c and 50c.

NEARLY A CAT-ASTROPHE.

Mr. Roney Once Alarmed At Number of Black Cats on the Stage.

Mr. Roney, trainer of the "Roney Boys," tells a good story on himself that happened in a high school hall in a large Ohio city. While making a short talk to the audience he noticed a large black cat ascending the steps on one side of the stage, and a moment later another tabby of the same shade descending the steps on the other side. As he finished he espied another feline of midnight blackness snugly curled up asleep in a dim corner of the stage. Trying to recall the proverbs about black cats he said: "And now if the professor of catology in the public schools will kindly remove some of these cats we will proceed with the program." The janitor got busy, and it proved that the first two cats were one and the same, and the third was only the janitor's black hat, which, in the dim light, was easily mistaken for a curled-up tabby.

Roney's Boys will appear at the Smith Memorial building tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, this being the sixth attraction of the Lyceum course.

This was done after voting down an amendment of Senator Brown that the increase come out of the appropriation to the military service instead of out of the state treasury.

MIND CURE NOT NEW.

Ethical Cupture Lecturer Sees How Much Good Can Result.

Philadelphia Record.

"Mind Cure in Ancient and Modern Times" was the subject of an interesting address by Mrs. Anna Garlin Spencer, before the Ethical Culture Society, in Broad Street Theatre, yesterday morning. Tracing history of faith and suggestion as a help in the cure of physical ills, Mrs. Spencer found three stages or forms in which it has manifested itself. First, she said, it took the form of ignoring or denying the existence of diesase or evil, as in Christian Science. This she believed to be often dangerous socially, although very often personally helpful. Its next phase was the submergence of the consciousness of diesase and evil under waves of exalted feeling, as in the lives of saints and mystics whose devout religious feeling had lifted them above the sensation of evil and disease. This phase, she said, mixed with common sense, might be of great value to many people who were not able to grasp the vital truths of religion without some background of metaphysical healing on faith.

The true mind-cure, however, appeared to her to be the cure of the mind. To rise above disease and evil by moral energy, by concentrating the mind upon exalted subjects, and by disciplining and training one's self so as to strengthen the weak parts of both mind and body—this, she declared, was worthy of the effort of every noble nature, and constituted the real mind-cure of modern times.

"The cure of sin," she said, "is not a moral tour de force, one great effort of the will, but is brought about by an intelligent self-discipline, followed year after year, insofar as the mind has influence upon the body's condition. The cure of the mind, self-knowledge and intelligent application of that knowledge to the strengthening of weak parts, the curbing of false emotions and the securing of lofty ideals of life, may or may not give health to the body, but there is a strong tendency in a sound mind to produce bodily saneness."

This is what Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ledbetter said on January 22:

"Gentlemen: Last night our daughter, age five years, was taken suddenly with pneumonia. We used 1-2 box of Mother's Joy as directed, and today she is almost well, thanks to the good remedy so near at hand and so cheap. This was a violent case, and hope you success. 520 Laura avenue."

"Silence is golden,' 'quoted the man who has a pasion for trite observations. "It ought to be," growled the practical politician. "It costs enough."

Home protection is true wisdom. Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve ought to be in every home for its quick relief and prevention of two dangerous diseases and the more common ailments such as Colds, Catarrh, Burns and Chaps.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

The Brooch

By DONALD MACKNIGHT

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

During the war between King Charles I. and his parliament two English families, the Vincents and the Traverses, were living on adjacent estates. Young Egbert Travers and Angela Vincent played together as children; then when the young Cavaliers were leaving their homes to support the king and Egbert marched to the war the parting made them sensible of the fact that they were lovers. Over the hedge that separated the two estates they plighted their troth, and the young lover dashed away thinking of the day when, the Puritans having been made to know their place and the authority of the king having been fully re-established, he would return to take up the pleasant life he had thus far led, made far happier by his union with Angela.

But, as under the struggle of 1861 to 1865 in America there lay, unrecognized at the time, the principle of civil liberty, so under that in England there was a principle of constitutional government. Travers was fighting for the king as an uncontrolled power, while his enemies were fighting for the king as he is today—a mere representative head of the government. The latter cause triumphed, the king was beheaded, and those who supported him, many of them deprived of their estates, found themselves without the means of subsistence.

Sir Edward Vincent, who espoused the parliamentary cause, had fallen at the battle of Marston Moor, and his wife had died during the struggle, leaving the Lady Angela an orphan. The Travers estate was confiscated, and Egbert Travers, instead of returning to his home, as he had anticipated when he set out to fight for the king, found himself penniless and without a roof over his head. An aunt of Angela's had taken what funds she could get together and gone to Holland. Angela decided to join this her only relative and remain with her till England became more settled under the sway of the parliament and the protectorate of Oliver Cromwell.

One evening when traveling toward the coast Angela heard a shot, the coach came to a stop, and a man on horseback appeared at the window, thrusting in one of those cumbersome implements with a flintlock which in those days they considered a pistol. A yellow strip of cloud reflecting the light of the setting sun shone on the man's face, while the features of the lady were concealed from him.

"I'll trouble you for your purse," he said.

The lady handed him a silk purse well filled.

"And now your jewels."

She removed a brooch from her throat and gave him that too. This seemed to satisfy him, and he told the coachman to drive on, but immediately stopped him to ask:

"Are you for the king or the parliament?"

"My father died for the parliament; my betrothed fought for the king!"

The highwayman straightway thrust his hand into his pocket, took out the purse and tossed it back into the carriage.

"It's only the cursed Roundheads," he said, "whom we force to give us food while we wait for the return of King Charlie."

He was feeling for the brooch when she stopped him.

"Keep it," she said, "for a remembrance. If I mistake not, you are one of those young men who, having lost your possessions in defense of the king, have taken to the road. The day may come when we shall meet again. If so, the brooch may be a means of recognition."

The highwayman lifted his hat, thanked the lady for her gift and signified to the coachman that he might drive on.

* * * * * * *

King Charles II. was entering London amid great rejoicings. A carriage was standing by the curb in the street where the royal procession must pass. When the king had gone by a young man in the cavalcade, seeing a face in the carriage, reined in, crying:

"Angela!"

"The last time you were at my carriage window it was for a very different purpose," she replied.

"What mean you, sweetheart?"

"Sweetheart, indeed! You robbed me."

"What, of your heart?"

"Of my heart, forsooth! Of my purse."

The young man looked confused. "We must needs do something after Naseby," he said, hanging his head, "but I surely never robbed you, Angela."

"You have a brooch a lady gave you?"

"A brooch! Yes, I have a brooch."

"I gave it to you, saying that some day it might be a means of recognition."

His face turned scarlet. The girl clapped her hands in great glee.

"Come," she said, "mayhap you have been wearing it next your heart, thinking it to be the gift of some fair dame other than your betrothed."

"Indeed I have kept it near my heart!" he admitted. "Here it is." And he produced it.

The estates of these young people came again into their possession. Among the descendants of Egbert and Angela is the brooch of which Angela was robbed.

The Boyden amendment provides for an appropriation of $500,000, instead of $1,000,000 for a state administration building. It is a pity we cannot construct a building that will serve for all time, and one that will be a credit to the State, while we are about it. As for the money it is about as easy for a State to spend a million dollars as half a million, when it has neither.

Study the political status of any state, and where you find wholesale corruption you will find whiskey politicians. Talk about socialism, anarchy, the white plague, yellow fever, the hook worm, cyclones, fires, and innundations, but the one festering sore on the American body politic today, and a greater menace than they all, is the saloon keeper.

All of us know that the majority of the inmates of our prison houses are negroes. And the white people of the State are not without a large degree of responsibility for this state of affairs. For instance, what are we doing to place the hundreds of colored youth on our streets, who are going the way of idleness to crime, where they can be taught to work under the direction of trained and godly men? It is sincerely to be hoped that Mr. Pharr's bill calling for a $5,000 appropriation for the establishment of a reformatory for colored youth will not be neglected until it is too late.

Only a few more days left of the Legislature and new bills are pouring in. Will the Assembly get to three very important measures; namely, the direct primary bill, the Torrens land bill, and the Pharr reformatory bill, and dispose of them? Everything else should be sidetracked for these measures, but there is fear that they will not be voted upon at this session. There should be some means of requiring all bills to be presented within ten days after the Assembly is called to order in January; this would obviate the latter-day confusion and would enable the Legislature to take up the more important bills in time to give them ample and proper consideration.

If fashion decrees that women shall wear the harem skirt-pataloon garment, then it is not for mere man to demur. When you see them on the street, be still and know that the law is irrevocable— at least for one year; then the Parisian fashion-makers will have some other garb ready, that their wallets may suffer no depletion. In Paris there are fashion designers whose salaries range as high, in one or two cases, as $60,000 per year. We talk of freedom, but mode proclaims the law and the hubby pays the rate fixed by the bureaucracy. The bachelor would choose to live a life of single contentment on small means rather than suffer the embarrassment of a refusal or the chagrin and humiliation of seeing his wife appear in homely apparel, but the State ere long will have placed a tax on his nebulous castles. And thus runs the world away.

In the House, on Monday, the constitutional amendment bill allowing a waiver of the homestead exemption was reported favorably by committee. It is to be hoped that this bill will be made a law. It may serve as a hardship to many; on the other hand, the privilege has so often been abused to the detriment and irretrievable loss of creditors, and has been the cause of so frequent temptation to men to violate their moral obligations, that advantages gained by its repeal would far outweigh those accruing by reason of the law. Most men mean to be honest, but too often they feel that conscience has been satisfied when they have complied with the statues; and because of the homestead exemption, many men, who are ordinarily to be found on the side of justice, go to their graves owing accounts that should have been paid, and, in some cases, those that could have been paid, but were not.

Here's hoping that Martin W. Littleton, congressman-elect from Oyster Bay district, New York, may win the toga. He has sent in the necessary requisition papers to the New York Legislature, and asks that his name be considered as one who will meet the requirements of the people of the Empire State. Indeed, he would; and he might be successful, if one of his principles were now operative—the direct election of senators. He is, by birth, a Tennesseean, and a progressive Democrat. In his proposed bill of rights he declares for the direct election of senators, the control of corporations, the immediate revision of the tariff, Canadian reciprocity, and other principles of the Democracy. If he is sincere, and thus far in his public career he has not provoked adverse criticism on this score, then he stands for what 95 per cent of the Democratic voters of New York State want to see enacted into laws. But that grand mogul of bluffdom, Charles F. Murphy, rules the remaining 5 per cent, and the end of Mr. Littleton, so far as his present ambitions are concerned, will be a sort of martyrdom to a cause that will be made perhaps a little stronger by reason of his courageous entree and almost certain defeat. But here's our final hoping that the time is ripe and is even now in his hand.

Under the title "The Referendum Not a Radical Measure," the Baltimore Evening Sun says:

It makes all the difference in the world whose ox is gored. The referendum—a simple political device and one wholly logical in a democratic government—in the minds of many individuals in this country, is associated with Populists and faddists and radicals of all degree. That is because, when it was first proposed, the government generally in this country was in the hands of the conservatives, not to say the "interests." In England the situation is different. There, for several years, a radical government has had control of Parliament, and in the effort to minimize the effects of that control the Conservatives have taken up the doctrine of the referendum, until, as the sober Spectator remarks in a recent number, the referendum has become the settled policy of the Unionists.

In the course of time something similar may be expected to happen in this country. If we were inclined to prophecy, we should risk a part of our reputation on the prediction that within a score of years that party which is supported mainly by the business interests will be found indorsing the idea of the referendum, either in national or local matters.

It certainly does make a lot of difference whose ox is gored. W. J. Bryan is a great advocate of the initiative and referendum. We know some mighty good people who couldn't stomach W. J. Bryan on account of what they termed his "populistic" notions. But we observed with interest that these gentlemen were in favor of the new charter for Greensboro, its initiative and referendum provision included.

Declamation Contest At Bessemer.

There will be a declamation contest at Bessemer high school Friday night, Feb. 24, at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of choosing a speaker to represent the school in a similar contest to be held at Elon College on Friday before Easter. Rev. Melton Clark, pastor of First Presbyterian church, will give his interesting lecture on the Passion Play. Cream and cake will be sold, the proceeds of which will be used in defraying the expenses for commencement. The public is cordially invited.

At Smith Memorial Not West Market Annex.

Through a mistake it was printed on cards that have been placed in storewindows that the Roney Boys' entertainment would be in the West Market annex. The entertainment will be given at Smith Memorial building and the public is asked to be guided by the announcements in the papers, not by the cards in the windows.

Every church has a nave, but unfortunately it isn't always spelled that way.

Men may not have as much curiosity as women, but they have enough.

A Card to the Public

When we announced, some 10 days ago, that we were going out of business we did so in good faith, and espected the people to believe us. The tremendous trade we have had, convinces us that the people took us at our word. While we have sold lots of goods we still have lots of them left. There are some $4,000 worth shoes, hats, underwear, shirts, notions and staple dry goods yet to be sold. Some of the very best things are still here, and we must sell them as we have promised to give up the store building between March 1 and 15. We have sold 3 show cases and some other fixtures, but have 2 show cases, window fixtures and safe yet for sale.

Considering the low prices we are making it will be to the interest of every man, woman and child in and near Greensboro to visit our store before March 1.

Do not put it off. We have what you want today. We may not have it tomorrow.

We are POSITIVELY going out of the mercantile business. We have other business that demands all our time and attention.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Helpful and Inspiring Meeting Last Night At the First Reformed Church.

At the First Reformed church last night there was held a very helpful and instructive meeting of the City Union of Christian Endeavor, the occasion being the celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the organization of the first Christian Endeavor society. There was a representative attendance from the societies of the Friends, Christian, Methodist Protestant and Reformed churches.

Dr. W. K. Hartsell, the president of the City Union, presided over the meeting and made an address to which the congregation listened with pleasure and profit.

In addition to a program of prayer and hymns there were instructive papers on the history of Christian Endeavor and on the headway that is being made by the association in all parts of the world.

The closing prayer was by Rev. L. E. Smith, pastor of the First Christian church.

COLORED FARMERS AT A. & M. COLLEGE

The Second Annual Conference Opened Yesterday With An Attendance Representing All Parts of the State—Helpful Addresses Made.

The second annual farmers' conference opened at the A. & M. College yesterday with a good attendance of the most prominent negro farmers of North Carolina. They came from all parts of the state and took an active part in the exercises of the day.

The formal opening took place at 10 o'clock, President Dudley being absent from the city, Prof. Bluford welcomed the farmers to the college. He then introduced Prof. J. A. Conover, who is in charge of the dairy work of the state conjointly with the department of agriculture at Washington. An address on Dairying in North Carolina was delivered.

Prof. Conover compared the dairy interests in this state with those of the Western States. He said that notwithstanding the fact that the dairyman in Wisconsin has to shovel away eight feet of snow in the morning before he can milk his cows he sells the people of North Carolina a great per cent of the butter that they eat.

He showed where we had every advantage favorable to the production of milk, butter and cheese and that we should not only supply our own needs but ship these products out of the State. He showed the opportunity that the colored man had along this line and spoke in the highest terms of a dairy that he had recently visited that was owned and operated by a colored man.

Prof. Conover was followed by a very interesting and practical lecture by Dr. B. B. Flowe, assistant state veterinarian. He spoke in detail of the different types of horses and advocated larger horses for farm work. He also discussed some of the more common diseases and the methods of treatment. He spoke of the hog cholera serum, the method of production and how it was used to vaccinate hogs against this disease. He answered a number of questions aked about diseases of animals.

During the afternoon session Frank Lyttle, a very successful farmer of Mecklenburg county, addresses the conference on the proper methods of plowing and the uses of fertilizers. He told how he had worked his land up to over a bale of cotton to the acre.

He was followed by S. W. R. Slade, of Wake county, one of the best farmers in the state and who has taken for a number of years the prize offered by the state department of agriculture for the best exhibit at the Raleigh Colored State Fair.

The conference will continue throughout the week and on the program today will be Prof. Sherman, state entomologist, who will discuss insect pests and their remdies, Prof. Conover on dairying and Dr. Flowe on diseases of animals. The public is invited to attend all of these meetings, and if you have any sick animals bring them along, Dr. Flowe will treat them free of charge.

Will Wed This Evening.

This evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patterson, 219 North Spring street, Miss Mary Patterson will become the bride of Mr. Arthur Neal Goodwin, of Florida. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. E. K. McLarty, pastor of the bride. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin will leave for their future home in Florida.

ANOTHER GENTLE REMINDER.

We don't want you to forget about our carpet and matting department on second floor. You might lose sight of this large part of our business because it is not in plain view, so we keep calling your attention to it from time to time. We have enlarged and remodeled this department recently so that we have more room and more light, and we would like to show you through it at your earliest convenience. You will find a very large and carefully bought line of mattings, carpets, rugs, art squares, shades, lace curtains, floor oil cloth, linoleum, hall curtains, door mats, etc., up there. We also carry a good line of table linens, towels, sheets, pillow cases, counterpanes and many other articles that are interesting to the housekeeper whether living in town or country. Thacker & Brockmann.

LADIES, here's another shoe bargain for you. We have twenty pairs of $3.50 La France Patent Bluchers and laced shoes carried over from last season to close out at only $2.25, sizes 2, 2 1-2, 3, 3 1-2, 4, 4 1-2 and 5. If your size is in this lot it will pay you to see them. Thacker & Brockmann.

Plant bed cloth—plenty of it here now, better get it early, then you will have it when you need it. Thacker & Brockmann.

ALL BORN BAREFOOTED.

In Guilford county, N. C., as elsewhere, all people are born barefooted, consequently we don't expect any falling off in our great footwear trade—in fact, we expect to sell more shoes and slippers this year than ever before. Folks have found out for sure that this store's a good place to buy, and our shoe trade is growing by leaps and bounds. We sell good shoes here and we can afford to sell them cheaper than the exclusive shoe dealers and still make a fair profit. We buy from manufacturers, so you only have to pay one profit when you trade at this store. And then we pay cash down for every dollar's worth of goods we handle, which gives us the biggest sort of advantage over the majority of stores. People like to buy shoes here because they know from past experience that we make good every guarantee and return the cash for unsatisfactory purchases without looking sour about it.

If you are not among our regular customers, we give you a special invitation to come and get acquainted with our goods and the prices. Our new lines for the spring season are coming in, and we will soon have in stock one of the most complete lines of good footwear in the state. Thacker & Brockmann.

Life Saved at Death's Door.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes W. R. Patterson, of Wellington, Texas, as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. My father, mother and two sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me.

Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years." Quick safe, sure, its the best remedy on earth for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup and all throat and lung troubles. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

A Sad Fate.

The unconscious stranger lay on the sidewalk breathing heavily and groaning. Two teeth were missing, his eyes were marked and his nose was bleeding.

"Who can he be?" said the crowd, again and again.

"I guess he was some peacemaker," suggested the ambulance surgeon, surveying the wreckage.—Buffalo Express.

The Lions and the Roses.

"An admirer in my younger days," said a woman lion tamer, "once sent me a bouquet of red roses, and I wore them in the ring to do my act. They came near doing for me. I had got my eight lions arranged in their pyramid when the lion at the top saw the red roses in my corsage. He mistook them for meat—lions have poor sight—and down he leaped. He came for me open mouthed. Though I fired a blank cartridge in his face, he made with his paw a sweep at the roses that ripped me open from chin to waist. The other lions bounded forward. They weren't angry. They were hungry. I had intelligence enough to perceive that, and just as they were leaping on me I tore off my roses and threw them across the ring. The big brutes left me at once, and while they sniffed the roses with disappointed growls I staggered out of the iron door. I was young at the time, young and light headed, or I'd have known better than to wear anything red among hungry and nearsighted lions."—Buffalo Express.

Does Not Strain the Eyes

Don't use a small, concentrated light over one shoulder. It puts an unequal strain on your eyes. Use a diffused, soft, mellow light that cannot flicker, that equalizes the work of the eyes, such as the Rayo Lamp gives, and avoid eye strain.

The Rayo is designed to give the best light, and it does.

It has a strong, durable shade-holder that is held firm and true. A new burner gives added strength. Made of solid brass and finished in nickel. Easy to keep polished. The Rayo is low priced, but no other lamp gives a better light at any price.

"It Cured My Back"

"For twenty-nine years I have been at intervals a great sufferer from rheumatism. During that time, no telling how many gallons of the various kinds of liniments and oils I have used and with but little relief. Recently, I was confined to my bed helpless. I tried Sloan's Liniment and used it with such satisfactory results that I sent for two large bottles, and I have up to this time used about half a 50 cent bottle with splendid success."—JAMES HYDE, Beebe, White County, Ark.

Got Ease in Less Than Ten Minutes.

MR. JAMES E. ALEXANDER, of North Harpswell, Me., writes:—"I am a horseshoer and subject to many strains in my back and hips which has brought on rheumatism in the sciatic nerve. I had it so bad one night when sitting in my chair, that I had to jump on my feet to get relief. I at once applied your

to the affected part and in less than ten minutes it was perfectly easy. I think it is the best of all Liniments."

Sloan's Liniment does not need any rubbing. It's a powerful penetrant. Try it for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Sprains, Chest Pains, and Sore Throat. It gives almost instant relief.

Price 25c., 50c., and $1.00 at All Dealers.

Look For the Hose With This Mark on the Toes

There are many kinds of guaranteed hosiery but they are all imitations of the original "Holeproof."

When your husband goes out to buy sox, tell him to insist on "Holeproof"—tell him to look on the toes for our trademark.

This means more than you think—it means that if any holes appear within six months we give you new hosiery free.

But that is not all, the hosiery itself is more stylish and comfortable than any other on the market.

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The makers use only the finest and softest cotton from Egypt and the Sea Islands. They pay 63 cents a pound, but could buy ordinary cotton at 12 cents a pound.

The yarn is three-ply in the body and doubled to six-ply in the heels, toes and knees. Common hosiery is made of two-ply yarn throughout yet it costs you as much as "Holeproof."

Comfort is supreme in "Holeproof"—the fabric is as soft and smooth as silk. Style is increased for the hosiery is shaped to fit the ankle like a glove fits the hand.

Men's hose come in eleven attractive colors and women's in six. Price $1.50 to $3 a box of six pairs. Children's hose, in black and tan, at $2 a box of six pairs. Please come in and see this hosiery today—it costs no more than the ordinary.

IT CURES

Rheumatism and Blood Diseases
The cause of rheumatism is excess uric acid in the blood. To cure rheumatism this acid must be expelled from the system. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with oils and liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Cures Rheumatism To Stay Cured.
Science has discovered a perfect and complete cure called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected marvelous cures. Rheumacide removes the cause, gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the bowels and kidneys. Sold by druggists at 50c. and $1; in the tablet frm at 25c. and 50c., by mail. Booklet free. Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

SAYS LIZARDS ARE LOVABLE.

The Longer One Looks Into Their Eyes More One Likes Them.

"Lizards bear acquaintance well and one likes them the better the longer one looks into their beautiful, innocent eyes. They are easily tamed and one soon learns to love them as they dart about on the hot rocks swift as dragonflies.

"The eye can hardly follow them," writes John Muir i nthe Atlantic, 'but they never make long-sustained runs, usually only about 10 or 12 feet, then a sudden stop and as sudden a start again, going all their journeys by quick jerking impulses.

"These many stops I find are necessary as rests, for they are short-winded and when pursued steadily are soon out of breath, pant pitifully and are easily caught. Their bodies are more than half tail, but these tails are well managed, never heavily dragged nor curved up as if hard to carry; on the contrary, they seem to follow the body lightly of their own will.

"Some are colored like the sky, bright as bluebirds; others gray like the lichened rocks on which they hunt and bask. Even the horned toad of the plains is a mild, harmless creature, and so are the snake-like species which glide in curves with true snake motion, while their small undeveloped limbs drag as useless appendages.

"One specimen 14 inches long which I observed closely made no use whatever of its tender sprouting limbs, but glided with all the soft, sly ease and grace of a snake. Here comes a little gray, dusty fellow who seems to know and trust me, running about my feet. Carlo is watching, makes a quick bounec on him, for the fun of the thing, I suppose, but Liz has shot away from his paws like an arrow, and is safe in the recesses of a clump of chapparral.

"Gentle saurians, dragons, descendants of an ancient and mighty race, Heaven bless you and make all your virtues known, for few of us know as yet that scales may cover fellow-creatures as gentle and lovable as do feathers or hair or cloth."

Falls Victim to Thieves.

S. W. Bends, of Coal City, Ala., has a justifiable grievance. Two thieves stole his health for twelve years. They were a liver and kidney trouble. Then Dr. King's New Life Pills throttled them. He's well now. Unrivaled for Constipation, Malaria, Headache, Dyspepsia. 25c. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Blaming Pedestrians.

"Oh, I'm all right," replied Mr. Chuggins. "But I'd feel a lot more comfortable if the streets were not so full of careless or inexperienecd pedestrians."—Washington Star.

Tortured For 15 Years.

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

COACH CLANCY ON HAND.

Has Only One Man Who Was on Ball Team Last Year in Line Up.

Chapel Hill, Feb. 21.—Coach Chas. H. Clancey has arrived in Chapel Hill and taken charge of the baseball team. His squad is short of pitchers. Capt. Hackney is the only old varsity man who will be out for the team. Coach Clancey faces a situation in which his only chance for a winning team is to develop a heavy hitting team. He believes that the best defense is a good offense and his intention is to put out a team whose marked characteristic is aggressiveness.

Two courses in Bible study will be given during the spring: the one on foreign missions by Professor Williams, Dr. Mims and other members of the faculty and preachers of the village, and the Challenge of the City by Dr. A. At the meeting Monday night 112 men were enrolled and it is expected that the systematic canvass which is being made by the Association will result in interesting over 350 men in this work. Last spring the classes included 315 men.

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.

"I had an acute atack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder and dizziness," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. IN REPLY TO PROF. HOLT

County Commissioner W. C. Boren Has Something To Say About County Road Matters.

Editor Telegram:—

Referring to communication from Prof. J. Allen Holt in regard to the good roads meeting held in Greensboro on Saturday last, it is not my intention to try to answer his many questions as it would take quite a long communication to do so. Most of the information wanted, however, is a matter of record and can be secured from the books at the courthouse. Like Prof. Holt, I would have been pleased to have had the questions before the meeting more fully discussed, but suppose it was not the object of the Good Roads Association to discuss these matters, but to hear an address from Mr. Spoon and have him demonstrate the split log drag. Mr. S. L. Trogdon, secretary of the Good Roads Association, can no doubt explain fully as to the object of the meeting. I feel, however, that the address of Mr. Spoon and his split log demonstration well repaid all that attended the meeting.

In explanation of the amendment to the old road law, will say that the amendments are for the purpose of bettering the system for the repair work in the townships. The amendments do not specify any special method of working or repairing the roads but whatever methods are adopted in the several townships, it is thought best for the oversight to be under the direction of a local organization in each township, as it is impossible for the County Commissioners to look after this repair work in the several townships and give it and other matters proper attention.

The proposition is simply to have three "Township Road Commissioners" in each township, who will have oversight of this repair work or common road work of their township. A certain amount of money out of the road funds will be appropriated to each township and these three commissioners allowed to spend this amount on their roads to the best advantage. I believe that three good men in each township who are intereted in good roads can be induced to handle this work and am sure that they can, being on the ground and knowing local conditions, get better results and more out of the money, than we have been able to get from any former plan.

The special tax of 10 cents on every $100 valuation provided for in the law is simply to allow any township that wishes to do so, to vote this tax to supplement the amount that they get from the general county funds. The amendment also provides that if a township votes and pays this special tax, the road subjects between the ages of 21 and 45 years will not be required to work two days or pay one dollar and fifty cents each year. As to the amount the commissioners spent on roads last year, Prof. Holt can get this from the annual exhibit published in the Patriot and can also estimate from this report about what amount the county can spend this year on this work.

Respectfully,
W. C. BOREN.

Verdict For Plaintiff.

In Superior court yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of the Standard Mirrow Company vs. Philadelphia Casualty Company returned a verdict awarding the plaintiff $5,368. The amount asked for was $10,000, but the jury decided that the debtors owing the remaining portion were insolvent at the time the policy was issued. An appeal will likely be taken by the defendants. The case of Jas. A. Zackary, admr., vs. North Carolina Railroad was then taken up and will be concluded some time today. The plaintiff is seeking to recover damages to the amount of $25,000 because of the death of H. H. Burgess while in the employ of the defendant.

Suits Bound Over In Second Case.

Before Justice Collins yesterday afternoon Jim Suits, the blockader arrested several days ago, was given a hearing on the charge of blockading, being held for court. This is the second case brought against the defendant and there will be probably other cases.

NOTICE.
